TO MOVE FREIGHT DEPOT AND TRACK?

HEARING ON MATTER BEFORE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

CITY WILL BE HEARD

Considerable Agitation for Some Time to Move Wabash Freight Depot and Tracks off Fourth

Efforts will be made to have the Wabash freight depot on West Fourth street moved from that place to a point farther North and also to remove the railroad tracks across that street. The matter is to be presented before the State Public Service Commission at a meeting to be held on November 13, at 10 a. m., at its office in Jefferson City at which the representatives of Maryville will be given an opportunity to be heard. Mayor Fred P. Robinson, Secretary George A. Pickens of the Chamber of Commerce and probably others will attend the hearing.

There has been considerable agitation for some time to have the Wabash to move their freight depot and tracks across this street. As it is now much of the traffic and travel to the State Teachers College is over this street. Many times during the day the traffic on this street is unreasonably obstructed on account of the frequent movement and holding of cars and on the crossing of that street, and is dangerous and inconvenient to the public.

The city asks the Wabash to remove and relocate its freight depot and switch tracks to such a point or place and in such manner as will clear Fourth street of all tracks and relieve the public from the unreasonably unsafe and inconvenient condition now existing at that place.

M. H. S. WINS FROM TARKIO IN FINAL PERIOD 20 TO 0

The Maryville High School football eleven again defeated the heavy Tarkio squad in a close game. Tarkio outplayed the locals the first quarter; the second quarter was almost an even break, but Lawrence's men took the offensive the third period and retained their aggressiveness. With only ten minutes left to play, Fannon intercepted a pass which was carried thirty yards to the twelve yard line. This was Maryville chance to score and on the fourth down O'Banion carried the pig skin over for a touchdown. The goal was kicked by O'Banion. From then on the play was very loose and Maryville intercepted four passes and carried them on an average of fifty yards for a touchdown. Once to be called back because the ball was dropped.

On the local squad Ogden played the best game in his history. Hardly a gain was made on his position, many of the end runs being stopped for a loss. He intercepted a pass and carried the ball sixty yards for a touchdown, and recovered a great many of Tarkio's fumbles and Maryville's punts.

Wood on the Tarkio team cleared the secondary defense of Maryville and it seemed as though he was headed for a touchdown, but was stopped by Willoughby. The Tarkio line played well and they hardly ever failed to make a gain through Maryville's line.

The Maryville touchdowns were made by O'Banion on a line plunge for five yards, Willoughby by a forward pass from O'Banion and a gain of fifty-five yards and Ogden intercepted a Tarkio pass and running 60 yards. O'Banion kicked the first and last place kick for the extra point.

The lineups for the teams were:

Maryville—(20)		Tarkio—(0)
Ogden	LE	Blodgett
Hunt	LT	McAdams
Hartman	LG	Christianson
Bush	C	White
Curfman	RG	Collins

FILMS OF SCHOOLS BEING TAKEN NOW

PICTURES OF CONCEPTION AND PARNELL TAKEN FRIDAY.

ALL SCHOOLS TO BE TAKEN

Elmo Is to Have Pictures Taken of Each School Building to Advertise Schools.

Moving pictures of Conception College were taken yesterday by Ralph Marcell and County Superintendent Leslie G. Somerville. These pictures are to be included in the Nodaway County school film which is being made under the direction of County Superintendent Somerville.

The pictures of Conception College included scenes of the boys in a game of soccer, boating on the lake, the library and one book printed in 1541, the scenery and buildings and walks.

Pictures of the Parnell school fair were also taken yesterday. A scene of the girls basketball game between Sheridan and Parnell was also taken.

Pictures of the Quitman school have already been taken. County Superintendent Somerville is receiving many inquiries as to the school film and also as to the activities of the schools.

The Elmo School Board is considering the proposition of having moving pictures taken of each building together with some school activity. The plan is to consolidate the various pictures into a school film and thereby advertise the schools of Nodaway county.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR ROUND WORLD FLIGHT

Officials of U. S. Army Service Considering Feasibility of Such a Plan

Washington, Oct. 28—Tentative plans for an attempted flight or army airplanes around the world have been under consideration for months by air service officials, but the project has not yet passed the preliminary survey stage. Valuable data on available routes in both directions has been obtained, however, and ultimately it is hoped to send an aerial squadron on the voyage. The project will not be laid before John W. Weeks, Secretary of War, for approval, it was said, until it takes more definite form.

Among the routes considered is that from the Atlantic Coast by way of Iceland and Ireland, and that from the Pacific by way of Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, Siberia, and home by way of Ireland and Iceland. Air service officials said the route offering the most favorable conditions as to prevailing winds would be selected, should the fight be ordered, and it would then become necessary to obtain permission of each of the countries to be traversed before the squadron could start.

BEARCATS LOSE TO CAMERON 19 TO 7

BUT MARYVILLE BOYS PLAY FINE GAME

S. T. C. MORE 1ST DOWNS

And During Second Quarter They Led 7 to 6—Game Play by Play

The Bearcats lost their game yesterday to Missouri Wesleyan at Cameron by a score of 19 to 7. The game was a fight every minute of the play and at one time during the second period Maryville was leading 7 to 6. Leech made the lone tally for the Bearcats by scooping up a fumble and making a spectacular broken field run of 60 yards for a touchdown.

In many departments of the game Cameron was outplayed. Maryville made nineteen first downs to their opponent's fourteen. It was a fine showing against a team with a 180 pound line with many championship years behind them.

First quarter—Maryville kicked off to Schultzse, who returned twenty yards. Wesleyan made a yard thru line, then was held and then lost a yard on end run. Wesleyan punted to Beck, who after a fumble, recovered on thirty yard line. Wilson gained a yard thru line. Leech gained 8 on end run. Wilson gained two thru line. Wilson gained three yards on short end run. First down. Foreman gained two thru line. Wilson gained five on end run. Lost ball. Wesleyan gained three thru line. Gained one-half thru guard. Gained two thru line. Maryville's ball. Leech ran twenty yards and fell and lost the ball. Maryville penalized fifteen for roughness. Wesleyan failed to gain. Wesleyan completed 18 yard pass Sween to Walker. Cameron off-side. Failed to gain on end run. Cameron scored first touchdown when Schultzse made long end run. Sween kicked and kick was blocked.

Maryville kicked off to Schultzse, who returned ball 20 yards. Schultzse gained twelve around right end. Failed to gain; gained two thru line. Lost yard on end run. Pilburn punted to Beck, who returned ball two yards. Maryville's ball on fifteen yard line. Failed to gain. England punted to 38 yard line. Whipple gained two. Sween gained one-half. Schultzse gained fifteen on wide end run. Whipple gained one-half on end run. Quarter ended with ball on Maryville's 18 yard line. Score 0 to 0.

Second quarter—Whipple gained 3 off tackle. Schaffner gained yard thru line. Sween attempted drop kick, but failed. Maryville's ball on 20 yard line. Wilson gained eleven on end run. Foreman gained yard off tackle. Leech gained twelve on short end run. Foreman gained yard thru line. Leech gained fifteen on end run, but Maryville penalized fifteen. Referee looks bad from Maryville angle. Incomplete pass Wilson to Leech. Leech lost yard. Webb punted. He ran up toward the man who received the ball and in the mixup he got the wind knocked out of him. Morelock of Wesleyan out and Gilchrist in. Wesleyan's ball. Wilson threw Schultzse for a five yard loss. Schaffner failed to gain. Forward pass incomplete. Pilburn punted to Foreman who returned 10 yards. Foreman lost a foot on short end run. Wilson gained a yard. Forward pass incomplete. Webb out again, this time with right knee. Young for Webb, fourth and nine to go. England punts and Messmer recovers after Schultzse touched it. Fake play lost a yard. Leech hurt slightly. Johnson for Schultzse at full for Wesleyan. Leech forced to come out with knee hurt. Howell England in for him. England made yard on end run. Wilson lost a yard. Beck punted to Sween who made 8 yards. Piburn punted. Maryville's ball on 34 yard line. England made four yards. England fumbled and half ended. Score 0 to 0.

Third quarter—Maryville kicked off to Sween, who returned twenty yards. Leech back in game for Maryville. Johnson twenty-five yards on wide end run. On end run Whipple dropped ball and Leech scoops it up and runs sixty yards through broken field for a touchdown. Beck kicked goal. Big argument between Maryville subs and Wesleyan rooters.

Wesleyan kicked to Allan, who ran the ball back ten yards. Leech gained twice and then Foreman gained a foot.

REV. CHRISTLER AND MRS. CARLETON FOUND DEAD.

Havre, Mont., Oct. 28.—Townspeople here today were speculating and seeking a reason for the double tragedy of yesterday which left in its wake the Rev. Leonard Jacob Christler, known as "the pastor of all outdoors," murdered and Mrs. Frank Carleton, known as "the prettiest woman in Montana," thought to be a suicide.

In endeavoring to provide a motive for the tragedy, officials today were convinced that the pastor was slain and that Mrs. Carleton had committed suicide.

Little incidents that had formerly passed between the two dead people were recalled today in an effort to piece together reasons for the cause of the killing.

Because of the wide field of Rev. Christler's work, people on the streets accepted the general theory that a platonic friendship existed between the two and that an increasing affection on the part of Mrs. Carleton and an effort on the part of the minister to halt it, resulted in the tragedy.

A friendship had existed for many years between them and many people recall of seeing them together often on the streets.

HOW TO MARK THE NEW BALLOT

MEETINGS OF DEMOCRATIC JUDGES AND CLERKS TODAY

E. G. COOK EXPLAINS IT

All of the Precincts of the County Were Represented at This Meeting This Afternoon

A meeting of the Democratic judges and clerks of election to be held November 7 was held at the circuit court room this afternoon for the purpose of studying the new blanket ballot and to know how it should be voted. Ellis G. Cook, secretary of the Democratic Committee, was in charge of the meeting and explained the marking system.

All of the precincts of the county were represented at the meeting either by judges or clerks or both. Mr. Cook requested that the judges should make efforts to phone in the returns from their precinct on election night. The Democrat-Forum will receive these returns.

There are four party tickets on the ballot, Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Socialist Labor. In addition to the name of each party being placed at the head of the ticket, there is a party symbol that distinguishes each ticket.

Briefly, the method of marking the ballot is:

To Vote a Straight Ticket: Make a cross in the circle at the top of the party ticket you want to vote.

To Vote a Split Ticket: Make a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket of your party, then make a cross in the square at the left of the name of each candidate for whom you want to vote who is a candidate on some other party ticket.

To Vote for Someone Whose Name Isn't on the Ticket: Draw a line through the name of the candidate printed on the ticket. Write the name of the person you want to vote for in that space and then make a cross in the square at the left.

Where Two Candidates are to Be Elected: This applies only to the office of Judge of the Supreme Court, Division No. 2 and is the only place on the ticket where confusion is liable to result. There are four candidates, two Democratic and two Republican, and only two are to be elected. Attempts to split the vote on these candidates is liable to spoil the vote unless care is taken. The following is an example of the proper way to cast a split vote: John T. White and Robert F. Walker are the Democratic candidates. Edward Higbee and Francis M. Hayward are the Republican candidates. The names of White and Higbee appear on the same horizontal line in adjoining columns. The names of Walker and Hayward appear on the next horizontal line below.

If the voter wants to vote for White he makes a cross in the square at the left of White's name. That automatically casts a vote for White and against Highbee. But if the voter wants to vote for Highbee as the second of his two choices he must then draw a line through the names of the other candidates he would vote against. He cannot also place a cross in the square at the left of Highbee's name because that would, under the general rules, kill his vote for both White and Highbee.

If a Full Ticket Is Not Voted: If a voter wants to vote for certain candidates but does not want to vote for everyone on the ticket, he should make a cross in the squares at the left of the names of the candidates he wants to vote for. Do not make a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket.

Spoiling a Ballot: A ballot will be spoiled it is it torn, defaced, any printed name or mark is erased or any mark made by the voter is erased or if any other paper or article is folded with the ballot. It will be thrown out and not counted. If a voter makes a mistake in marking his ballot he must not try to change it by erasing the mistake. He will be allowed to take the spoiled ballot to the clerk of the election who will destroy it and give the voter one new ballot.

Ballots must be folded, before being handed to the election judge so that all the voters marks shall be concealed.

Miss Betty Turner was in Pickering and Hopkins yesterday on business for the Red Cross.

GOWDY JURY STILL OUT AT PRESS TIME

REPORTED THE JURY IS UNABLE TO AGREE ON VERDICT

NINE FOR ACQUITTAL?

Jury At One Time Requested They Be Discharged as They Were Unable to Agree

At press time this afternoon the jury was still out in the case of the state against William Gowdy on a charge of rape and it was predicted at that time the jury would be unable to agree on a verdict.

It is understood the jury stood early this afternoon nine of acquittal and three for conviction. The jury reported at one time to Sheriff Roach they were unable to agree and wanted the sheriff to ask Judge Dawson to discharge them. It is expected the jury will be kept in session until either late this evening or probably tomorrow morning unless a verdict is arrived at before.

The case went to the jury about 12:10 this noon after Tom Bailey, prosecuting attorney of Atchison County, had made the closing argument for the state. The jurors went at once to dinner and about 1:10 went into session. Several ballots are understood to have been taken with practically no changes.

A crowded courtroom heard the arguments of the attorneys for the state and the defense in the case. Hal Hunt of Rock Port made the first talk, followed by Judge L. D. Ramsey of Rock Port, then Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey, Ed Kelso of Grant City, L. C. Cook of this city and Mr. Bailey of Rock Port. A night session of court was held last evening. Judge Ramsey, who is 76 years old, is a brother of the late Judge W. W. Ramsey of this city and has been practicing law for about fifty years, about forty-five years of that time at Rock Port.

PLANT ANOTHER TREE

This is the time of the year to plant trees. The beauty of homes like that of cities depends very largely upon the number of attractive trees and flowers around them. The most commodious residence building will be bare and unattractive unless surrounded by a reasonable amount of shade trees, shrubbery and flowers to adorn the grounds around it.

Nice trees are not only comforting in summer but pleasing and attractive. If there is a vacant place about your lot that needs one, suppose you get one and put it there and it will grow to be a pleasure to you in a very short time. If your orchard is running down, plant some new fruit trees. They too, will come into bearing in a very few years and, if you should fall by the way, they will benefit some one who follows.

The week of October 27 to November 3 has been set aside as "Tree Planting Week.' Governor Hyde, in his proclamation, states that the number of bearing fruit trees in Missouri has declined 61 per cent in the last ten years. It it therefore apparent that there is an urgent need for larger planting of fuit trees in the home orchards of the state. The writer visited a nice little farm some time ago and observed that there were no trees on the place except one large native shade tree more than a half century old. Asked how long he had lived on the place, the owner said he had been there more than fifty years and had never taken the trouble to plant trees.

Think of what this man missed by his neglect. A few shade trees and a few fruit trees planted at slight expense from year to year would have added hundreds of dollars of value to the place besides making the home more attractive and have filled the cellar each year with fruit. Lumber is high because of the fast disappearing forests of saw timber, paper is high because of the growing scarcity of pulp woods and, in both cases, enough timber has been destroyed by carlessness and forest fires to have supplied the country for a generation at least.

Sooner or later some plan of general reforesting of this country must be worked out or lumber, woods, and wood goods will reach a prohibitive price. This should never be allowed and neither should people neglect the comfort and beauty of their homes.

Ministers are not expected to smoke here or hereafter.

There are nineteen proposed amendments to be voted upon November 7. It is costing the state $225,000 to have them printed in papers that few people read and it is doubtful if more than one out of the nineteen is adopted.

They are having a fine time down in Georgia. Senator Hardwick has called Senator Harris a "liar" and a "coward" and offers him any "satisfaction" he desires. It is indeed pleasant for political brethern to dwell together in unity.

Harvey Coakley went to Harrisonville this morning to visit a brother and from there he will go to Hobart, Okla., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Coakley.

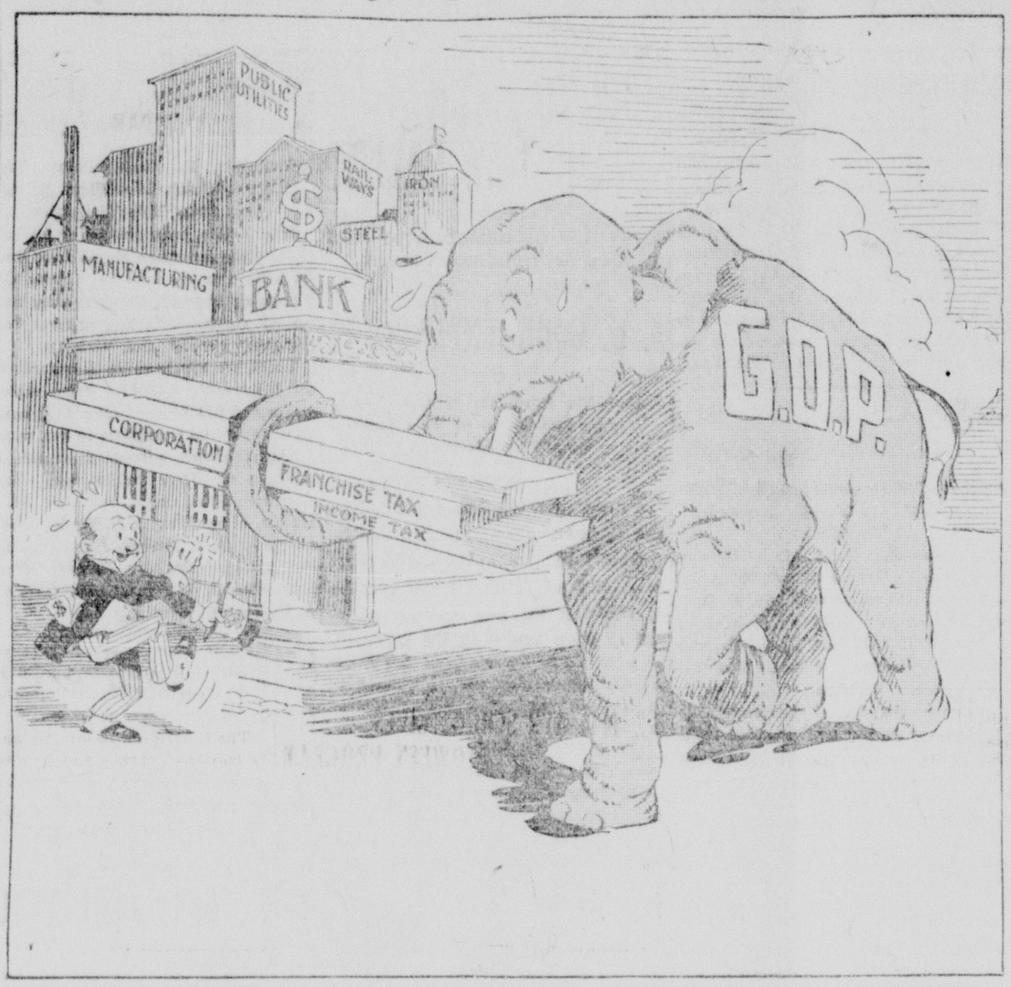
The Work of Gov. Hyde's G. O. P. Machine in Missouri



LIFTING TAXES FROM THE CORPORATIONS AND INCOME TAXPAYERS—AND—

INCREASING THEM ON THE FARMER

THE COUNTY UNIT BILL

This is the fourth article prepared by the members of the State Teachers College, interested in rural education.

If wealth means better school buildings, better teaching, longer school year, the country schools should surpass in efficiency those of the town and city. In Nodaway County there are thirteen first class high school districts whose assessed valuation is $23,489,568. The remaining school districts of the county are rural districts whose assessed valuation is $36,157,091, a difference of $12,667,523 in favor of the children of the rural schools. This gives an assessed valuation of $6534 to each child of the town schools of Nodaway County: an assessed valuation of $9801 to the rural child, a difference of $3267 in favor of the child in the country.

From this we see that on the basis of wealth, the country is more able to educate its children than the city. Yet in spite of this greater wealth, the child in the country has the smaller number of school days, small one-roomed buildings of the old box-car type with little or no modern equipment or conveniences.

We further see that every farmer who is interested in his children can afford to educate them and should vote for the county unit.

E. Eickholt's Article

The County Unit does not compel the first class high schools to come under its power. They can however accept its blessings if they want to do so. Suppose that some of these high schools are in debt, up to their very neck, there is nothing to keep them from joining the farmers and have them help pay for this high school no matter what the debt might be.

The intentions of the bill is to give the rural child the same opportunity for a high school education that the city child has. The laws of the state provide that the high school districts can levy a tax of $1. But the County Unit can levy but 40 cents so you see according to this new law the city child will get one dollars worth and the country child 40 cents worth.

UNCLE DICK UNDULY EXCITED

Took Aunt Mary Some Little Time to Understand the Matter, and Then, Action!

"I don't know what we are coming to," said Uncle Dick Fowler, as he surveyed a sheet of thin paper, which had accompanied a periodical sent to Aunt Mary by their daughter in New York.

"What's the matter now?" asked Aunt Mary tranquilly. "What are you doing with that sheet of paper, Dick, and where are your specs?"

"I'm huntin' for 'em now," said Uncle Dick, excitedly, "and I suppose this here," shaking the paper, "is a new map, and the way it's cut up by the railroads is a shame and a disgrace! I don't see how there's room left for a decent house lot in the whole state."

"Well, now, find your specs and read what it says," counseled Aunt Mary, abandoning her socks to look over Uncle Dick's shoulder. "Perhaps they're only prospecting the roads as yet; maybe they won't be built any more'n some o' these western towns that's laid out all so pretty on paper and nowheres else. Read what it says, father."

"It says," faltered Uncle Dick, with a confused expression on his face, "Pattern of skirt and jacket on page 372. Pattern of evening waist on page 374. Pattern of—"

POINTED WAY TO EFFICIENCY

When railway mail cars were first introduced each clerk was allowed the privilege of doing his work in the way that seemed best to him. Clerks competed for efficient methods—some of them attaching to letters they tied up in bundles a slip on which they wrote: "In case of error report to J. Blank, Route 99." From this the modern "facing slip" now used was copied.

These slips are of great variety, and are used in post offices as well as on the cars. One is placed on each package of letters distributed and tied for further distribution on another railroad system or in a post office. Every package can be identified in this way. If errors are found this slip with notations is sent through appropriate channels back to the man who made the error. In this way clerks are enabled to perfect their skill and add to or change erroneous items in their knowledge.

Tooth Had Wandered.

An extraordinary case of a wandering tooth leaving its normal base in the gum and traveling half way round a woman's head is reported from Constance, Switzerland.

A wealthy woman named Grauner suffered great pain from neuralgia which also affected her eyesight. She underwent treatment by leading French, German and Swiss specialists for several years, but without result. Finally, she consulted a dentist, who by the aid of X-rays discovered a wandering "wisdom" tooth behind her right ear and in dangerous proximity to the brain.

Mme. Grauner, who has now completely recovered her health, rewarded the dentist and surgeon with large fees and had the wandering tooth mounted in gold.

Marks as Wrapping Paper.

Marks are so constantly depreciating in value that the thrifty Teuton is hard put to find some use for them. They are, of course, of some use in buying clothes and groceries, but not much.

The latest step in the downfall of the mark has been its use in the wrapping of chocolates. An enterprising candy manufacturer has discovered that 20, 30 or 40 pfenning and 1 mark paper money is a cheaper wrapper for chocolates than tinfoil, especially when one must purchase tinfoils with marks. In addition the money wrappers offer an inducement to the speculative candy buyer who wishes to hold marks for a rise.

Mrs. Harris' Brood.

District Visitor (calling on Mrs. Harris, a new arrival in the village)—You seem to have a great many children, Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. Harris—Yes, mum; and what's more, all their names begins with haitch. There's 'Ubert, my oldest. Then comes Ilda, 'Arriet, and 'Orace. Then there's Arold and 'Arry and 'Ector and 'Onoria. They're all haitches; all except the baby, and we christened 'er Holive.—London Tit-Bits.

Did Not Like Fat.

The provision dealer was astonished. He gazed at the newly married young woman as if he thought she were a victim of temporary insanity. "Did you say you wanted a—a lean chicken, ma'am?" he queried.

"Certainly, I did," and the young woman's expression took an added dignity. "Neither Mr. Torker nor I ever eat chicken fat. It is extremely distasteful to both of us, and I see no occasion for paying for what we do not like."—Philadelphia Ledger.

HAILED AS LEPROSY SPECIFIC

Although chaulmoogra oil has been in use for hundreds of years by the natives of India in the treatment of leprosy, it is only in recent times that general interest has been taken in it. Now scientists and medical men of various countries are studying the chaulmoogra tree with special consideration of the curative properties of the oil and its constituents, which already have been thoroughly examined chemically.

The United States Department of Agriculture has had plant explorers in the Orient studying the tree chaul-moogra and collecting the native lore regarding the value and uses of the oil from different related species. In Department Bulletin 1057, "The Chaulmoogra Tree and Some Related Species," by Joseph F. Rock, agricultural explorer, is collected all the recent information regarding these trees and the oils used in the treatment of leprosy and some other skin diseases.

According to the bulletin, some investigators accept it as established "that the fatty acids of the chaulmoogric series are specific in leprosy." The modern method is to use hypodermic injections of the esters prepared from the peculiar fatty acids of the oil, which have been found to possess curative properties. The natives of India have been using the crude oil in local applications or internally, and investigations have shown that many of the seeds sold for the purpose are not of the species known to have curative qualities.

The author recommends that a thorough survey be made of the chaulmoogra tree and all the known species related to it; that promising localities be visited; that seeds be secured in quantities for germination and chemical examination; and that samples of soil and specimens of flowers, fruits and the wood be collected and preserved. If plantations are to be established, he says, it is of the utmost importance to know which of the numerous species should be planted. The best yielder of fruits, the largest fruited, and those yielding the proper oil in largest quantity should be selected.

Freak Plant Growth.

A report of an unusual incident of growth out of season that occurred in April in Kimberly, South Africa, has reached London. The report says that there was on exhibition the branch of a plum tree profusely covered with blossoms, notwithstanding the fact that in the ordinary course such tree should not blossom before October. The unusual phenomenon is variously attributed to the unseasonably warm weather and the prolonged drought.

Pullet Born Without Gizzard.

Having occasion to kill a nine-months-old pullet which showed symptoms of some wasting disease, a Massachusetts man found on opening it that the bird had no gizzard, but it had hundreds of minute eggs not developed. It is presumed that the fact of having no gizzard would have eventually caused its death.

Made "Wise" Man Look Foolish.

A bold and self-assertive individual bounced into a shaving saloon and, catching sight of an owl in a corner of the room exclaimed, with scorn, "Who stuffed that owl?" Then the critic proceeded to smite hip and thigh the taxidermist who had stuffed the owl; the owl was wrong here, there and everywhere. During the whole of this outburst the barber kept on shaving. At the end, when the stranger was out of breath with his vehement criticism, the owl stepped from the perch and planted itself somewhere else.

News From Over The County

Burlington Junction Post.

L. C. Severs was laid up for repairs the first of the week, his ailment being the result of a peculiar injury. Leon fills most any chair in which he chooses to sit, and his girth is that of a man of full growth. In fact, his size is not to be sneezed at— a fact which he can testify to.

Mr. Severs felt a peculiar tickling in his nostrils Sunday morning; he drew a deep breath; a funny feeling crept up and down his spine; he shrugged his shoulders and closed his eyes, and Mrs. Severs thought he was going to start a full fledged shimmy right before the whole family. But his actions were of another nature. He expanded his nostrils and emitted a he-man sneeze with such a force that a part of his innards parter company with the parts of his anatomy to which they were grown—and Severs has been poking around this week like a chicken with the roop.

Rev. F. E. Edwards attended the Oklahoma conference of the M. E. Church held at Ponca City last week, and also transacted business in Kansas City and St. Joseph in company with District Superintendent Ernest Snider of the St. Joseph district.

Mrs. W. H. Wagner established a new record last month, when she visited at Lawerence, Kansas, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Glen Michael. That month was the first one in thirty five years, Mrs. Wagner reported to the Junction Mercantile Company, that she had not traded at that store.

Mrs. S. T. Ware left today for Garnett, Kansas, where she was called by the critical condition of her little grandson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ware. He was thrown from a horse Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wright of Darlington moved here the fore part of the week. Mr. Wright is the new telegraph operator, coming here to take the place of O. Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Duffey from Wheatland, Wyoming, are visiting at the home of their niece, Mrs. W. S. Frankum, and family this week.

Skidmore News

Miss Lena Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Montgomery, 6½ miles west of Skidmore, was married to Mr. Earl Overton of St. Joseph on Friday, October 13 at St. Joseph, Mo. The wedding was somewhat a surprise to Mrs. Overton's parents and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Overton returned to St. Joseph the fore part of this week after spending several days visiting Mrs. Overton's parents. They will make their home in St. Joseph.

Friday, Paul Swinford purchased of W. W. Potts his 240-acre farm located southeast of Burlington Junction. As a part of the purchase price, Mr. Potts takes Mr. Swinford's 160-acre farm, about 9 miles northeast of Skidmore. The total consideration for both farms was $70,000. Both parties will get posession the first of March.

Mrs. Charles Money returned Sunday from Colerado, where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Erwin Dougherty. Mrs. Dougherty returned with her, and will spend several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Devers, and other relatives.

Mrs. Mary Brown and daughter Allie of Valle Crucis, North Carolina, came Tuesday for a visit at the Ed Lowrance home. Mrs. Brown is the mother of Mrs. Lowrance.

While working with a gas engine last Friday, Jimmie VanAtta, northeast of Hopkins, was badly burned when an explosion caused the gasoline flames to almost envelop him. Dr. Maxwell is waiting on him and reports the boy getting along very nicely.

Curtis Booze, west of Hopkins, who had decided to go west for lung trouble, having already advertised a sale that had to be postponed on account of his illness, is reported as unconscious this morning but his many friends are hoping a change may yet take place for the better.

NODAWAY COUNTY HAS BIG CROP OF CORN, SAYS CABLE.

(St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal)

R. W. Cable, of the firm of Forcade & Cable, farmers and feeders of Nodaway County, was here today with a mixed load of cattle and hogs. Included in the shipment were ten head of Shorthorn yearlings of 940 lbs. average that sold at $11, top of the market and a very pleasing price to the owner. Messrs. Forcade & Cable are all around stockmen, raising cattle, hogs and sheep on their Nodaway County farm, in addition to the usual grain crops. Mr. Cable says that in his immediate section there will be a splendid crop of corn this year. "A lot of corn will run 40 to 60 bushels per acre and some even more," said he. "Both last year and the year before our corn yield was below normal, but this year we have a bumper crop." As a result of the plentitude of feed, Mr. Cable says the indications are for an increase in cattle feeding operations this winter.

HIS FATHER CAME AFTER HIS YOUNG SON

Young Boy Ran Away from St. Joseph to Home of Foster Mother at Barnard, Then on to Peru, Ia.

(Barnard Bulletin)

Billy Boldt has run away from his father's home in St. Joseph and the St. Joseph police have been asked to find him. Billy arrived in Barnard Sunday night about eight o'clock and went to the home of his foster-mother, Mrs. Grisinger-Stephens. On Monday, after telling his story, he went to Guilford and took the train for Peru, Iowa, where his uncle Floyd Robshaw lives. Telegraph communication with Robshaw stated that he would be on the lookout for the boy, and would care for him.

Billy has lived with Mrs. Grissinger-Stephens for two years and on September 24, went to live again at the home of his father, C. F. Boldt in St. Joseph. A contract between Mrs. Grisinger-Stephens and Boldt gave her full control of the boy, except in case he left her home voluntarily. He was not adopted. However, having gone to the home of his father, the contract was void.

C. F. Boldt informed the police of the boy's disappearance and asked their help in locating him. He came to Barnard Tuesday night after a telephone conversation with Mrs. Grisenger-Stephens, in which she stated the boy had been in her home but was not there now and would not tell where he was. Upon going to the Stephens home Tuesday night, he was unable to get any information concerning the boy's whereabouts, and it was only after both parties had consulted the prosecuting Attorney, Chas. F. McCaffrey, that Mr. Boldt learned where the boy was.

Mrs. Grisenger-Stephens stated that the reason she refused to give the information as to the boy's whereabouts at once, was because of threats to send the boy to the reform school and because of the fact the boy told of brutal treatment in the Boldt home.

Mr. Boldt stated the reason the boy left home was because he would not attend school.

Billy is nearly fourteen years old. We understand that C. F. Boldt went to Peru, Iowa, after Billy Wednesday.

Who Is W. C. Durant?

WHY DURANT IS "WIZARD OF MOTOR WORLD."
(From August issue of Investor's Guide).

Far better than mere words, descriptive of his remarkable, native ability, shrewdness, and his reputation for making good on his promises, is the record of the exploits and accomplishments of William C. Durant in the automotive world to date.

Durant is a pioneer automobile manufacturer in the United States and Canada and one of America's greatest industrial leaders—but let his record speak for itself.

First he developed the Buick automobile, starting in 1904 with a capital of $75,000. Later he acquired and developed the Cadillac, Oakland and Oldsmobile companies and brought all of these well known companies together into the General Motors Corporation, which he organized in October, 1908.

Then he organized the Chevrolet Company in 1910, took over a plant in Flint, Mich., in 1912 and, with a capital of less than one-third of a million dollars available for operating that plant, developed the business so rapidly, that in December, 1916, the Chevrolet Motor Company's balance sheet showed assets of more than $96,000,000.

Durant resigned as president of the General Motors Corporation in November, 1920, and in the following January, resigned from the board of directors of that corporation to devote his entire time and attention to the development of Durant Motors.

In the early days of Durant Motors, when the Durant car was in the process of development, R. W. Judson, president of the Continental Motors Company was called to New York for a conference with Mr. Durant.

The blueprints of the new Durant Motor were submitted to him and he was asked whether or not he could manufacture it. Receiving an affirmative reply, Mr. Durant said to him:

"Build that motor for me in less time than you have ever built motors before. When the proper time comes we will enter into a contract that will be mutually satisfactory."

Within eight days from the time the blueprints left New York for Muskegon, Michigan, Mr. Durant was advised over the long distance telephone that the first motor had been built, tested and was "running like a top."

Eight months later, after the Continental Motors had invested $750,000 in preparation for quantity production, the first "scrap of paper" in the entire transaction appeared, in the form of a $15,000,000 contract between Durant Motors, Inc., and Continental Motors.

When his story was told, the world gasped over the stupendousness of a transaction and the vast outlay of funds based solely on one man's word to another.

But the man whose word was given was W. C. Durant, and the president of the Continental Motors knew with whom he was dealing.

Quantity production started in the first Durant factory last October and on May 31, 1922, the four Durant plants then in operation had produced and shipped 18,566 cars. On July 1, 1922, nine months after production started, registration figures for the entire United States showed Durant to be the seventh largest producer of automobiles in America. With the increased facilities given by the new Elizabeth plant and the factory under construction in Oakland, Cal., the six divisional companies of Durant Motors will have a capacity of 332,500 cars a year, exclusive of the output of the new Flint, Mich., plant and the Locomobile plant in Bridgeport, Conn.

These are some of the main reasons why Mr. Durant is now hailed everywhere as "The Wizard of Motor World."
